

Aliento y garganta · prompts Veo 3

13 clips · 74 s en bruto (antes de quitar silencios y acelerar a x1.1)

 En Veo sube siempre la imagen original en alta calidad de Nano Banana; las miniaturas de este PDF son solo para identificarlas.

 Si tu plataforma solo ofrece 8 s, genera a 8 s: el montaje recorta los silencios.

 Frame 10 se usa en 4 clips (10A–10D): descárgalos en orden (10A primero, 10D el último).

Clip	Frame	Segundos	Frase
1	1	8 s	El olor que viene del fondo de tu garganta no es mal aliento. Es algo que se está pudriendo dentro de ti.
2	2	8 s	La mayoría de las personas lo tienen durante años sin saberlo y siguen usando un enjuague bucal que no hace nada.
3	3	4 s	Llena un vaso con agua tibia.
4	4	4 s	Agrega una cucharadita de bicarbonato de sodio,
5	5	4 s	una pizca de sal
6	6	4 s	y un chorrito de jugo de limón.
7	7	8 s	No necesitas un enjuague bucal de cincuenta dólares ni una visita al dentista de trescientos dólares para solucionar esto.
8	8	6 s	Haz gárgaras profundas y lentas cada noche antes de dormir.
9	9	4 s	(sin diálogo: escupe la mezcla)
10A	10	4 s	Son años de cálculo saliendo por fin.
10B	10	8 s	Tres días después, las personas más cercanas a ti notarán que algo es diferente antes de que digas una sola palabra.
10C	10	8 s	Comenta "LIBRO". Te enviaré mi protocolo gratuito para la garganta y el aliento, además de otros ciento cuarenta y nueve remedios.
10D	10	4 s	Sígueme primero, o no puedo enviártelo.

Correcciones hechas al guion

- «mala liento» → «mal aliento».
- «en Juague Bucal» → «un enjuague bucal».
- «enjuago ebucal» → «enjuague bucal».
- Cifras en letras: 50 → «cincuenta», 300 → «trescientos», 149 → «ciento cuarenta y nueve».
- «Comenta libro» → Comenta "LIBRO" (mayúsculas y comillas).
- «Además de otros 149 remedios» era una frase suelta → unida a la anterior con coma.
- «enviárselo» → «enviártelo» (se tutea en todo el video).
- Frames 4-5-6 forman una sola frase: «Agrega..., una pizca de sal y un chorrito de jugo de limón.»
- Frame 10 lleva 4 frases → dividido en 10A, 10B, 10C y 10D (misma foto).

Clip 1 · sube el Frame 1 · 8 s

«El olor que viene del fondo de tu garganta no es mal aliento. Es algo que se está pudriendo dentro de ti.»

⚠ Otra persona en primer plano con la boca abierta (no es el avatar). La cámara se acerca mucho a la boca y salen burbujas; al final la voz sigue fuera de cuadro.

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character, with subtle, natural hand sway. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame. IMPORTANT: during the clip the camera steadily and smoothly pushes in a LOT toward the other person's wide-open mouth in the foreground, ending in an extreme close-up where the open mouth and the bubbles fill most of the frame. The push-in is continuous and smooth, with no cuts and no sudden jumps. Hyperrealistic.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

Continuous background action, placed first: from the very first frame to the very last frame, without ever stopping, the other person in the foreground keeps the head tilted back and the mouth stretched wide open, never closing it; never pauses, never freezes. From the very first second, small foamy bubbles keep rising up from the back of that open throat, bubbling out continuously, popping and spilling over the yellowed teeth and the lips, more and more bubbles as the clip goes on, about two or three new bubbles per second, never stopping. The character, leaning over that person, keeps the small flashlight pointed into the open mouth, its beam lighting up the bubbles, and holds the glass of lemon water. During the first seconds, while the character is still in frame, on 'olor' the character wrinkles the nose in exaggerated disgust and on 'garganta' moves the flashlight beam deeper into the open mouth. Then the camera pushes in toward the open mouth: as it gets closer, the character's face leaves the top of the frame, and the character's voice keeps being heard naturally from just above the frame, with exaggerated, disgusted emphasis on 'pudriendo'. The clip ends on an extreme close-up of the open mouth full of bubbles.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, dramatic, alarming tone, lively pace): "El olor que viene del fondo de tu garganta no es mal aliento. Es algo que se está pudriendo dentro de ti."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice; the wet, gurgling sound of the bubbles coming out of the throat and popping.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 2 · sube el Frame 2 · 8 s

«La mayoría de las personas lo tienen durante años sin saberlo y siguen usando un enjuague bucal que no hace nada.»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

The character, seated on the dock, holds the blue mouthwash bottle. On 'La mayoría' raises both eyebrows high; on 'sin saberlo' tilts the head with a knowing look; on 'enjuague bucal' lifts the blue bottle toward the camera and gives it a little shake; on 'no hace nada' glances at the bottle with an exaggerated eye roll and a dismissive head shake. Ends with a skeptical shrug and pursed lips.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, conspiratorial, skeptical tone, lively pace): "La mayoría de las personas lo tienen durante años sin saberlo y siguen usando un enjuague bucal que no hace nada."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice; the slosh of liquid inside the bottle.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 3 · sube el Frame 3 · 4 s

«Llena un vaso con agua tibia.»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

The character pours water from the glass pitcher into the tall glass on the table, filling it about three-quarters. On 'agua tibia' raises the eyebrows with a big beaming smile. Ends setting the pitcher down and nodding at the camera.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, cheerful, instructional tone, lively pace): "Llena un vaso con agua tibia."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice; the sound of water pouring into the glass.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 4 · sube el Frame 4 · 4 s

«Agrega una cucharadita de bicarbonato de sodio,»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

On 'cucharadita' the character shows the heaped teaspoon of white baking soda to the camera; on 'bicarbonato de sodio' tips it into the glass held in the other hand, and the water turns slightly cloudy. Ends with a wide-eyed, excited smile.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, cheerful, instructional tone, lively pace): "Agrega una cucharadita de bicarbonato de sodio,"

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice; the light clink of the spoon against the glass.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 5 · sube el Frame 5 · 4 s

«una pizca de sal»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

The character drops a small pinch of salt into the glass, rubbing the fingers together; on 'sal' looks up from the glass to the camera with a playful wink. Ends with a big smile.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, playful, instructional tone, lively pace): "una pizca de sal"

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 6 · sube el Frame 6 · 4 s

«y un chorrito de jugo de limón.»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

The character squeezes the lemon half over the glass, a stream of juice falling in; on 'limón' squeezes harder with an exaggerated face. Ends with an open palm toward the glass, a satisfied 'ta-da' gesture and a big smile.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, cheerful, instructional tone, lively pace): "y un chorrito de jugo de limón."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice; the soft squeeze of the lemon and juice dripping.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 7 · sube el Frame 7 · 8 s

«No necesitas un enjuague bucal de cincuenta dólares ni una visita al dentista de trescientos dólares para solucionar esto.»

⚠ Cifras pasadas a letras.

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

The character holds the full glass of cloudy lemon water toward the camera. On 'No necesitas' wags the index finger of the free hand; on 'cincuenta dólares' raises the eyebrows in mock disbelief; on 'trescientos dólares' shakes the head with an exaggerated laugh; on 'solucionar esto' pushes the glass a little closer to the camera with a proud, beaming smile. Ends with a confident nod.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, confident, slightly mocking tone, lively pace): "No necesitas un enjuague bucal de cincuenta dólares ni una visita al dentista de trescientos dólares para solucionar esto."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 8 · sube el Frame 8 · 6 s

«Haz gárgaras profundas y lentas cada noche antes de dormir.»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

The character holds the glass very close to the lens. On 'gárgaras' tilts the head back slightly, miming a gargle; on 'profundas y lentas' gives a slow, emphatic nod; on 'antes de dormir' rests the cheek on the free hand in a sleeping gesture. Ends with a big smile and a wink.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, warm, instructional tone, lively pace): "Haz gárgaras profundas y lentas cada noche antes de dormir."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 9 · sube el Frame 9 · 4 s

«(sin diálogo: escupe la mezcla)»

⚠ Sin diálogo. Clip entero, no recortar.

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's relieved expression at the end is exaggerated and highly expressive, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

No dialogue in this clip. The character, bent over the table, spits a long, thin, continuous stream of milky white liquid into the glass bowl until the mouth is empty, then lifts the head slightly, wipes the lips with the back of the hand and lets out a short, exaggerated, relieved 'ahh'. The character is NOT looking at the camera while spitting.

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice; the splash of liquid falling into the glass bowl and a short relieved 'ahh'.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 10A · sube el Frame 10 · 4 s

«Son años de cálculo saliendo por fin.»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

On 'años' the character widens the eyes dramatically; on 'por fin' raises both hands in relief with a big smile. Ends with a firm nod.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, revealing, triumphant tone, lively pace): "Son años de cálculo saliendo por fin."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 10B · sube el Frame 10 · 8 s

«Tres días después, las personas más cercanas a ti notarán que algo es diferente antes de que digas una sola palabra.»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

On 'Tres días' the character holds up three fingers; on 'más cercanas a ti' gestures outward with an open palm; on 'algo es diferente' leans toward the camera with raised eyebrows; on 'una sola palabra' presses an index finger to the lips. Ends with a knowing smile.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, intriguing, excited tone, lively pace): "Tres días después, las personas más cercanas a ti notarán que algo es diferente antes de que digas una sola palabra."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 10C · sube el Frame 10 · 8 s

«Comenta "LIBRO". Te enviaré mi protocolo gratuito para la garganta y el aliento, además de otros ciento cuarenta y nueve remedios.»

⚠ Palabra para comentar en mayúsculas; cifra en letras.

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

On 'Comenta' the character points down toward the bottom of the screen; on 'LIBRO' mimes opening a book with both hands; on 'gratuito' flashes a big beaming smile; on 'ciento cuarenta y nueve remedios' spreads the arms wide. Ends with a thumbs-up.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, generous, excited tone, lively pace): "Comenta "LIBRO". Te enviaré mi protocolo gratuito para la garganta y el aliento, además de otros ciento cuarenta y nueve remedios."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.

Clip 10D · sube el Frame 10 · 4 s

«Sígueme primero, o no puedo enviártelo.»

Vertical 9:16 video, shot on an iPhone, handheld as if filmed by another person standing in front of the character: subtle, natural hand sway, and the camera slowly and smoothly pushes in a little closer and then gently pulls back out during the clip; no abrupt moves, no cuts, no fast zooms. Hyperrealistic. Framing starts exactly as in the start frame.

The character's performance is deliberately exaggerated and highly expressive, like a high-energy viral content creator: big eyebrow raises, wide eyes, big beaming smiles, animated head movements and emphatic, expressive hand gestures, while still looking like a real human with no cartoonish distortion.

On 'Sígueme' the character points at the camera; on 'no puedo enviártelo' shakes the head playfully with a pout. Ends with a wink and a big smile.

The character looks directly into the camera while in frame.

Lip sync is precise and natural. The character performs the action and speaks simultaneously, starting to speak right at the beginning of the clip.

Dialogue (spoken in Spanish with a neutral Latin American accent, exaggerated, extremely enthusiastic, playful, urgent tone, lively pace): "Sígueme primero, o no puedo enviártelo."

Audio: no background music, no sound effects, only natural ambient sound of the lakeside dock (soft lapping water, a light breeze) and the character's voice.

No on-screen text, no subtitles, no captions, no logos, no watermarks, no graphic overlays of any kind.

El start frame proporcionado define la apariencia del personaje, su ropa y el ambiente. Continúa desde ahí.